[FEBRUARY, MDCCLXXII.] THE [NUMB. 325.]

SOUTH-CAROLINA AND COUNTRY GAZETTE; JOURNAL.

Containing the freſheſt Advices, both Foreign and Domeſtic.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 18, 1772.

LONDON, NOVEMBER 14.

THE premier, it is ſaid, has adviſed pacific meaſures till the return of the meſſenger who is diſpatched to the court of Spain.

It is thought by many, that Hanover will be the future reſidence of a certain gentleman, well known for his late exceſſes in the amorous way.

Yeſterday evening, expreſſes were ſent off from the Admiralty to the commiſſioners at Chatham and Portſmouth dock-yards, where they are uſing the utmoſt diligence in every branch of the naval departments.

In a packet received yeſterday at St. James's from France, were ſeveral letters for his Majeſty from the Duke of Cumberland. In one of which, his Highneſs ſolemnly declares, "that he was not in the leaſt urged or influenced in the ſtep he has taken; that he was not married in England; earneſtly implores his Majeſty's forgiveneſs; and ſays he does not in the leaſt deſire that the lady may be received as Dutcheſs of Cumberland in England."

It is reported, that ſix articles of impeachment are expected to be exhibited at a proper ſeaſon, againſt two great perſons, which, it is thought, will be followed by many more.

Agents are gone to Holland to enſure the Engliſh merchants ſhips, bound from America to the ſouth-weſtern parts of the globe, at almoſt any price.

A fleet of men of war has ſailed within theſe three weeks from Ferrol, to augment the Spaniſh ſquadron in the Weſt-Indies.

A new regiment of horſe is going to be raiſed whoſe uniform is to be green and gold, and is to be called the Queen's Hunters.

NOVEMBER 16. According to letters from Toulon, the ſquadron now fitting out there is ordered to be ready for ſea by the beginning of next month. A bark is to be added to the two ſhips of war, the two frigates and ſix xebecks; and in a week or two the Languedoc, a ſhip of 60 guns, with two more of the ſame force, will be ready for ſea. The real deſtination of this armament is a ſecret.

The Duke of Cumberland is to have an eſtabliſhment in the Electorate of Hanover.

Mrs. Horton's fortune, previous to her marriage, was 4000l. per annum.

NOVEMBER 19. Advices are received from Madrid which mention, that orders had been tranſmitted to the Spaniſh Governors in the Weſt-Indies, and South-America, to build ſeveral men of war with all expedition.

A powerful fleet of obſervation we hear, is ordered to be got ready, to watch the motions of the French and Spaniards in the Mediterranean.

On Saturday morning laſt, the inſurance on merchandize was advanced near five per cent. in this city, on a ſuppoſition that a rupture is on the very eve of breaking out.

Lord North, we hear, is determined in the courſe of next ſeſſions, to bring in a bill for the purpoſe of leſſening the number of executions, and confining capital criminals, unleſs convicted of murder, to ſome public work for life, where it is poſſible their labour may make an atonement for the violations which they have committed upon the laws of their country.

We hear his Majeſty has been graciouſly pleaſed to offer to the Duke of Cumberland, a continuation of his bounty to him, on condition of his reſiding in the Electorate of Hanover, and not returning to England without leave; and as a farther inducement for his Royal Highneſs's compliance, it is ſaid, his Majeſty will inveſt the Duke with certain privileges at Hevenhauſen, ſuperior to any with which the great officers of that electorate are at preſent poſſeſſed of.

A correſpondent obſerves, that ſhould the Duke of Cumberland be perſuaded to go to Hanover, he will then be totally in the power of his Majeſty as a deſpotic prince: His new relations are too knowing to ſuffer him to commit that folly.

We hear that the character of a certain very popular lawyer has lately undergone much cenſure, in conſequence of his being a principal adviſer in the late injudicious marriage of a Royal Perſonage.

Sir Francis Bernard, late Governor of New-England, goes ſhortly over to Ireland as a commiſſioner of the cuſtoms, the board of revenue in that kingdom being now divided into two departments, one a board of Cuſtom, the other a board of Exciſe, and encreaſed with five additional officers, who will have five voices in the houſe of Commons for government; as they are not, like our commiſſioners, prohibited from ſerving in parliament.

On the 10th of March laſt the Mahrattaes, under their General Malharrow, totally defeated Hyder Ali in the Bidnore country. Forty-ſix pieces of cannon were taken in the field; his whole infantry being ſurrounded, laid down their arms; part of his cavalry fled; he himſelf, in diſguiſe of a Fakier, quitted the field, and took the route of Sarigna Parnam; and as a body of Mahrattaes cavalry was poſted near that place, he is ſuppoſed to have fallen into their hands. The war is looked upon as at an end; and it is feared that the Mahrattaes, flushed with victory, will turn their arms againſt the company.

So ſtrong and well founded are the expectations of a war with Spain, that ſeveral merchants in the Weſt-India and Carolina trades have petitioned the admiralty for convoys for their ſeveral ſhips, which, we hear, have been granted.

NOVEMBER 21. Yeſterday ſeveral bets were laid at a principal coffee-houſe at the weſt end of the town, that war would be declared againſt Spain, on or before the firſt of January.

In the firſt conference between Lord Rochford and the Spaniſh ambaſſador on the ſubject of the inſult lately offered to the Britiſh flag at Carthagena, Prince Maſſerano, like a true old ſeaſoned veteran in the Spaniſh politics, made anſwer with the greateſt coolneſs and ſerenity,---"That he was extremely mortified at the news of ſo diſagreeable an event, to which he was an entire ſtranger, not having received from his court the leaſt intelligence relating thereto; but that he was ſo thoroughly perſuaded of the good and pacific intentions of the King his maſter, that he took upon himſelf to promiſe every ſatisfaction in caſe the Governor ſhould be found to have exceeded the orders of the court, and tranſgreſſed againſt his duty."---Had the ambaſſador ſaid that the Governor had exceeded his orders in ſearching our ſhips, the anſwer would have been clear and ſatisfactory; all the reſt concludes nothing, and really means nothing.

We can aſſure the public, that this day ſennight there was a cabinet-council holden at St. James's, when every one of the members then preſent declared their opinion for war with Spain; but Lord North thinking it a matter of prudence to wait for the return of the frigate from Admiral Rodney's ſquadron, which is expected every hour, it was agreed that their previous determination for a war with Spain ſhould ſtand, and that it ſhould not be deviated from in any reſpect, unleſs ample ſatisfaction for the indignities offered to the Britiſh flag ſhould be brought over by the above-mentioned frigate.

Orders are ſaid to be given for all the third rate men of war now lying at Chatham and Sheerneſs, to be navigated to Portſmouth immediately.

An expreſs arrived laſt night at St. James's, from his Royal Highneſs the Duke of Glouceſter, who is perfectly recovered, and was ſetting out for Piſa, when the expreſs left him.

It is ſaid, that advice has been received, that a Spaniſh fleet of twelve ſhips of the line are now cruiſing in the Mediterranean.

Several parties of bombardiers, matroſſes, &c. are ordered to march for Portſmouth, Plymouth and Spithead; the reaſon of this order has not tranſpired.

The merchants trading to Portugal are to have a meeting, very ſhortly, to conſider upon ſome meaſures recommended to be adopted, to relieve themſelves from the oppreſſions of the revenue officers at Liſbon, and other grievances, which tend greatly to interrupt the commerce between the two nations.

By a letter from France there is advice, that Count de Guignes will not return to England, but that he was preparing to ſet out for the court of Spain, in order to ſettle ſome important points with regard to their future operations; and that his excellency was to proceed from Spain to Portugal, on buſineſs of the like kind.

From Ferrol, we learn, that the Spaniards are fitting out all the ſhips they have there, and, that at the royal foundery at Barcelona, all hands are extremely buſy in caſting of cannon for the uſe of the navy.

By the KING. A PROCLAMATION.

GEORGE R.

"WHEREAS our Parliament ſtands prorogued to Tueſday the 26th day of this inſtant November: We, with the advice of our Privy Council, do hereby publiſh and declare, that the ſaid Parliament ſhall be further prorogued, on the ſaid 26th day of this inſtant November, to Tueſday the 21ſt day of January next. And we have given orders to our Chancellor of Great-Britain to prepare a Commiſſion for proroguing the ſame accordingly. And we do hereby further declare our royal will and pleaſure, That the ſaid Parliament ſhall, on the ſaid 21ſt day of January next, be holden for the diſpatch of divers weighty and important affairs. And the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Knights, Citizens, and Burgeſſes, and the Commiſſioners for Shires and Burghs of the Houſe of Commons, are hereby required to give their attendance accordingly, at Weſtminſter, on the ſaid 21ſt day of January next.

"Given at our Court at St. James's the 20th day of November 1771, in the 12th year of our Reign."

NOVEMBER 22. To morrow will be iſſued out at the Paymaſter General's office at Whitehall, 31 days ſubſiſtance to his Majeſty's forces, from the 24th inſtant to the 24th of December next.

At the ſame time will be iſſued out at the ſaid office 61 days ſtoppages to his Majeſty's Land Forces for the ſame time.

The eſtimate of the expence of ſupporting and maintaining the late augmentation on the military eſtabliſhment of Ireland amounts to 69 655l. 15s. 4d. for the two years laſt paſt, excluſive of all other military expences.

A veſſel from Genoa brings an account, that a very daring conſpiracy has lately been diſcovered there, compoſed of the natives, and other inhabitants, to murder the whole Council with the Burghers. Two or three hundred were found actually under arms, and fired as a ſignal of revolt. This is the third conſpiracy there within theſe two years.

NOVEMBER 23. It is really aſtoniſhing to behold our Miniſters ſtill dreaming on, without having yet taken one ſtep, or once thought of paſſing the neceſſary orders toward putting the nation in a poſture to do itſelf juſtice in caſe of a refuſal from the Spaniards. Their pretence, forſooth, is, that they defer doing ſo till the arrival of the Dunkirk from Jamaica, with freſh advice from Admiral Rodney, and the Governor of Carthagena's written anſwer to his letter. But (in the name of common ſenſe) what have they to hope from thence? Do they hope that the Governor of Carthagena will diſown what he has done? Do they expect he will diſavow the guarda coſtas? We ſuppoſe him to be a man of honour, and an officer of credit. Beſides, were not the diſavowal of the orders he gave, an excluſive prerogative of the Sovereign his maſter? A right of the Spaniſh Crown, which no vaſſal may dare to infringe. In proof of which need we alledge the caſe of the Iſle of Falkland? But moreover, had the caſe been that the guarda coſtas exceeded the Governor of Carthagena's orders, the ſaid Governor had nothing more to do on our ſhip being brought into the harbour, than to declare to the commander of it, that the ſaid guarda coſtas had miſbehaved in inſulting it, and to give him immediate ſatisfaction; whereas the event was directly oppoſite, for he approved and confirmed all which they had done in virtue of his orders; and ſuch will be the purport of his anſwer to the Admiral.

There is one piece of news which we may very probably receive by the next advice from Jamaica; namely, that the Carysfort alſo has been taken by the Spaniſh guarda coſtas, and that a few more of our veſſels have received the very ſame opprobrious inſults, with other pretty articles of intelligence of the like pleaſing advantageous and creditable kind. To expect any thing better, were rank folly or madneſs, or rather an extraordinary and extravagant mixture of both. Upon the whole, the only ſalutary counſel that can be given to our ſtate managers at preſent (if they are at all ſuſceptible of any) is, that they immediately diſpatch a powerful fleet to Jamaica, for the protection of our flag and navigation, and ſtill continue arming and augmenting the nation's naval forces, with all the vigour and expedition poſſible. All they do beſides is mere loſt time, and treacherouſly trifling with the dignity, intereſt, and even ſafety of the Britiſh Crown.

Notwithſtanding our Court and Miniſters may plume themſelves, and endeavour to deceive the people, on the peace they have ſecured by their late convention with Spain; the Spaniards will not reſtore Falkland's Iſland; the Court of Spain has not withdrawn the orders given to their American Governors, but continues them; the Governors continue to inſult the Sovereignty and flag of Great-Britain; and juſtifying their conduct under theſe orders, refuſe to give any ſatisfaction; unleſs, after one man has kicked another, the ſaying, he did indeed mean to kick him, and will always kick him when he meets him in the ſame place, but did not mean to inſult him, is ſatisfaction. This is all the ſatisfaction we are to have; and we are to be told in Parliament, that it is ſufficient. Our Miniſters under the firſt flutter of ſpirits raiſed by kicking, ſent a bluſtering memorial to Spain. They felt bold under the hot fit, but they ſoon cooled, and were afraid of having ſpoke ſo loud, leſt they ſhould exaſperate the King of Spain, and ſent after their memorial an apology for being in a paſſion. But if they ſucceed, to perſuade the Spaniſh Monarch not to be angry with them, for preſuming to remonſtrate againſt this laſt inſult; we ſhall be curious to know how they will get over the affair at Cadiz. The fort there fired upon one of our ſhips of war, for preſuming, in time of peace, to come within reach of their guns. And it is a fact, that the King of Spain has expreſly explained this matter to his French Friend, as a ſignal of war. Whether the French King will underſtand it, ought to be no conſideration for our Court; but whether our Court will ſo underſtand it, may, in a ſhort time, be matter of ſerious conſideration for the nation.

It is very probable, that a bill will be brought into Parliament this enſuing ſeſſions, to add to the incomes of the King's brothers; who, from the increaſe of their connections, at preſent ſtand in great need of it.

NOVEMBER 25. Mr. Alderman Townſhend has paid the land-tax, charged on his eſtate in the country; and conſequently all proceedings in that affair are dropt.

Extract of a Letter from Dublin, November 17.

"Laſt night the Houſe of Commons here divided, after a long debate, on a motion made by the patriots, "That the ſeven "Commiſſioners of the Revenue of this kingdom had always "been found ſufficient for the conducting and managing the "ſaid revenue." This was violently oppoſed by the Court, as, to ſecure a corrupt majority, they had promiſed they ſhould be increaſed to twelve Commiſſioners of Exciſe and Cuſtoms, to be divided into two boards, which in its conſequence muſt entail an expence on the country of fifty or ſixty thouſand pounds in two years. On the diviſion it was carried for the motion by 129 againſt 83; ſo the Court was beat by a majority of 46; which has thrown Lord Townſhend and his adviſers into deſpair. Indeed this country will not bear to be inſulted any longer."

Mr. Wilkes has received the moſt noble offers from the ſons of liberty of Ireland, to beg him to reſide at the city of Dublin, and ſucceeds Dr. Lucas, both as repreſentative of their city, and as heir to his virtues and fortune. Mr. Wilkes has received this generous mark of their politeneſs and favour with every mark of deference and reſpect. But ſuch a ſtep at this period would be dangerous to the liberties of England, and highly advantageous to miniſters of ſtate and the pandars of the Court.

We are informed that the Emperor of China hath thought proper to diſſolve the Co-hong, or company of a few merchants, which engroſſed the whole trade of Canton, much to the public detriment.

PROMOTED.] Captain Bremer, to the Pearl, of 32 guns, at Plymouth, in the room of the Hon. Capt. Gower. Capt. Wallace, to the Roſe, at Sheerneſs, in the room of Capt. Caldwell.

DIED.] A few days ago, at Canterbury, Lieut. Swinburne, aged 103; though never promoted higher, he had been in the ſea ſervice near 80 years, and diſtinguiſhed himſelf in ſeveral great actions; in particular, he was in the Caſtle of Alicant at the time of blowing up the rock at that place, yet died at laſt on half-pay.

NOVEMBER 26. We hear that orders are ſent to Deptford and Woolwich, for ſuch men of war as have been repaired and fitted out for ſea in thoſe yards, to ſail for the Nore, in order to take on board their complement of men.

At the laſt Board of Admiralty orders were given for ſeveral veſſels to be taken into the government ſervice, for the importation of maſts, ſpars, and ſhip timber from Piſcataqua, &c. for the uſe of the royal navy.

A popular nobleman has lately received ſeveral letters from Britain in Reading goal, containing a variety of contradictory and abſurd charges, which prove his ſtory relative to ſetting Portſmouth Dock on fire a mere fiction.

Advice is received from the Iſle of Ely, that the floods have been out ſo much, that all the lower grounds in one night were overflowed, by which many head of cattle were drowned, and a great deal of other damage was done.

An anonymous correſpondent ſays, that on Sunday night, ſome diſpatches were received in Great Ormond-ſtreet, from Madrid, in which the King of Spain ſtill perſiſts in the juſtice of his proceedings againſt any veſſels whatſoever approaching his coaſts.

We hear that the new government on the Miſſiſippi is entirely agreed on; and that Governor Brown, a late Lieutenant-Governor of Eaſt-Florida, goes out as Chief Governor of this new ſettlement.

NOVEMBER 30. On Monday night laſt died at Bath, the Right Hon. the Earl of Weſtmoreland. By his death, a ſeat in Parliament for Lyme-Regis, in Dorſetſhire, becomes vacant, his Lordſhip being ſucceeded in title by his ſon Lord Burgherſh, the preſent member for that borough.

A letter on making a marmalade of carrots for the uſe of ſeamen in long voyages, as a preſervative from the ſcurvy, was lately communicated to the ſociety for the encouragement of arts, &c. from a foreign correſpondent, and a copy of the letter having been ſent to the Lords Commiſſioners of the Admiralty, we are credibly informed their Lordſhips, ever attentive to the preſervation of the health and lives of ſeamen, have directed a conſiderable quantity of the marmalade to be prepared, in order that proper and effectual trial of its utility may be made.

A correſpondent ſends us the following deſcription of the dreſs of a modern fine fellow: A coat of light green with ſleeves too ſmall for the arms, and buttons too big for the ſleeves. A pair of fine Manchester ſtuff breeches, without money in the pockets. Clouded ſilk ſtockings,---but no legs. A club of hair behind, larger than the head that carries it. A hat of the ſize of ſixpence, on a block not worth a farthing.

Since the arrival of Sir Gilbert Elliot, the Buckingham-Houſe Junto (of which he is Chairman) have begun to act. The firſt object of their conſideration, was, the marriage of the Duke of Cumberland. Full of reſentment at his having preſumed to marry an ENGLISH WOMAN, this Scotch and German Board have determined to purſue him with the utmoſt rancor and perſecution. But reflecting a little upon ſome paſt tranſactions, they, upon mature deliberation, have resolved, That the Crown shall not carry on this persecution, lest it should make the Duke popular, and open the eyes of the people as to the cause of it; but that the Parliament, or as it has not been improperly called the present more Parliament, shall, as usual, do the dirty work. This may be depended upon as the FACT; and the public are desired to keep their eyes upon it at the meeting of Parliament.

The Ministry are distracted beyond belief concerning the affairs of Ireland. They know not how to act. The King, full of his Prerogative, firmly adheres to his appointment of the Twelve Commissioners. The Bloomsbury Gang, determined to provide for their friend, Lord Weymouth, are secretly opposing Lord Townshend. The Scotch Cabal, are for sending Lord Harcourt to Ireland. There is no two of the whole Corps of Ministers, Runners, &c. who agree in any thing. Lord Townshend has sent over the Commons Address, containing the Resolution of the House, "That Seven Commissioners are sufficient." But, such are the divisions in the Ministry, they cannot frame an answer to it. If they offer to acquiesce with the Commissioners, the King opposes it: He insists upon his Prerogative. If they offer to support Lord Townshend, the Bloomsbury Gang oppose it. At present the matter is suspended. How long are the dearest interests of England and Ireland to be sacrificed, to gratify a malicious pleasure, of keeping in office a set of the most rapacious, profligate, and incapable Ministers?

The Lord Lieutenant of Ireland is reduced to such a contemptible opinion in the eyes of the public, that even the meanest of his bottle companions have deserted him; and he is now only supported by those who would support any thing for interest. On his first arrival in Ireland, one of the means of encreasing his popularity was by drinking hard; a foible the Irish are naturally much addicted to; yet when they saw it made use of as a deception in the hands of an enemy, they treated him with proper contempt.

Wagers of five to one are laid at the west end of the town, that a certain speech, which will be spoken on the 21st of January next before an august assembly, will contain a perfect satisfaction being obtained of his good brother and ally of Spain.

There is advice, by the Christiana, a Dutch East-Indiaman from Sunda, that the Swallow sloop of war was well at the Cape of Good Hope the 12th of August last.

DECEMBER 3. Yesterday the Portuguese Ambassador had a conference with his Majesty and the Earl of Rochford, at the Queen's palace, relative to the answer from Lisbon to the British memorial, which is said to be entirely to the satisfaction of our Court.

Extract of a letter from Warsaw, dated November 16.

"This moment we are informed, that General Romanzow has retaken Giurgewo by storm: There were in the fortress a very large magazine, and above 150 pieces of cannon. The Count effected this enterprize with a detachment from his army; the main body he sent over the Danube to oppose the Grand Vizir, and to prevent him from coming to the assistance of that fortress. The Grand Vizir declined making his way to Giurgewo through the corps of Russians; the latter therefore attacked him, totally defeated him, and took 107 pieces of cannon, besides a great many other trophies of war; the Grand Vizir then fled towards Adrianople. This advice is confirmed by another private letter from the same place; but, as this account is of great importance, we must wait for a further and more authentic confirmation thereof."

Private letters from Petersburgh mention, that notwithstanding the Court puts a good face upon the matter, with respect to her present difference with the Court of Vienna, it has nevertheless given much uneasiness in the Cabinet.

On Friday his Royal Highness the Duke of Cumberland, with the Duchess, and another Lady and Gentleman, with four attendants, passed through Canterbury, on their road to London. His Royal Highness came last from Brussels, and landed at Dover between three and four o'clock in the morning; his stay here was only during the change of horses, and his Royal Highness did not get out of the carriage.

On Saturday morning his Royal Highness the Duke of Cumberland, with his Duchess, arrived at Windsor-lodge from France, but have not yet been at Court; where we hear, they are forbid to appear, and, to whom, it is confidently asserted, the King is irreconcileable.

The Lord Chamberlain has signified to the Duke of Cumberland, by order of the King, that his Royal Highness's presence at Court will be dispensed with; and it has also been signified, by authority to the Ministers, and to all the servants of the Crown, that if any of them visit the Duke or Duchess of Cumberland, they must not appear at St. James's.---The Duke and Duchess are at Windsor.

It is said a certain great Lady is so resigned to her approaching dissolution, as to have made her will, and settled all her most trivial affairs in the world. She has left three millions sterling to the children of a great Personage, and the rest to her German relations.

Lord Camden, since his breach with Lord Chatham, has not once been at St. James's; and therefore it is conjectured that the rupture on his part proceeded from no interested or ambitious purposes, notwithstanding what his Lordship's enemies have asserted to the contrary.

The late Robert Mackay, Esq; has actually left Mr. Wilkes a verbal legacy of 500*l. over and above the debt of that amount which he cancelled some time since; at first he intended no more than a bequest of* 150*l. but his nephew, to whom he has devised a property of* 100,000*l. desired the sum might be increased to what it now is, and the Patriot has unexpectedly got a genteel supply to assist him in the expences of his Shrievalty.*

Five to one is the current bett, that Lord Townshend will pass the Christmas holidays in England, and never more return to Ireland as Lord Lieutenant.

Dudley's prospects, we are told, are at present very flattering, as he is not only said to be married to a niece of the E. of B---e's, but also countenanced and supported by some of the first personages in the kingdom.

"In the London papers this week there is an account of my writing several letters to certain popular noblemen; I do declare, that I have not wrote to any nobleman whatever, since the time of my confinement, but Lord Suffolk and Lord Mansfield, wherein I never once attempted to give any account of Portsmouth fire.

Reading-goal, November 30, 1771. J. BRITAIN."

We are well assured that Dudley, now in the King's-Bench prison, who formerly pretended he could make many discoveries relative to Portsmouth fire, declares that he knows nothing whatsoever of that memorable conflagration; and treats the whole affair no less as an imposition upon the Ministry than the public.

It is really surprizing that Administration does not make some satisfactory enquiry into this business; for at present, we are well assured, Dudley derives his whole subsistence from Government; and surely, if he is the impostor he pronounces himself, it is highly improper, instead of gratifying, to make him a burden upon the public.

A treaty of marriage is said to be on foot, between Lord Holderness's daughter and the Queen's brother, now in England.

Extract of a letter from Dublin, November 24.

"Yesterday the House of Commons met, and resolved itself into a Committee of the whole House, to consider of a supply to his Majesty. The first thing the Country Party did was to consider what was the real debt of the nation; in the course of which Mr. Flood, Sir William Mayne, and many others, pointed out several fictitious charges on the public, which reduced the charges on the nation, that must have been provided for, above 40,000*l. These deductions were greatly opposed by the Court party; but after much debate they found it prudent to yield to the force of truth upon this occasion. The patriots were then proceeding to make further enquiry into many other exhorbitant charges, when the Minister for the Court, after having deducted the sum already mentioned, moved a resolution, That the sum remaining was the debt of the nation. To which Mr. Hussey moved for an amendment, That a smaller sum (the actual fund debt) should be inserted in the place of the larger sum, contending for it, that all increase of expence incurred by government since the last sessions of Parliament, that was not provided for in the former supply, was no the debt of the nation till agreed to by the House. This the Court strongly opposed, and a division followed, in which the country party was beat only by seven votes. It being now past midnight and Sunday morning, the patriots moved, out of regard to the sacredness of the day, the question of adjournment:------But Courtiers, who only sacrifice to temporal power, void of every feeling of decorum, persisted in devoting the sabbath to their vile purposes, on which a debate arose, which lasted till past one of the clock; and when the patriots found they could no longer stem the torrent, they, in a body of above an hundred, quitted the house. The court, thus left to themselves, proceeded, and put the original question. What effect this will have on a people almost drove to distraction by oppression, God only knows.*"

DECEMBER 5. The King of Prussia has fixed the foot's-top on the Emperor, and the Archbishop of Prague may pay dear for the part he acted in putting it on. By that Prelate's connivance and assistance the King of Prussia has filled his magazines with a sufficient quantity of forage and corn, for carrying on a war for two years. The Emperor on the other hand, who has undoubtedly the finest army in Europe, finds his magazines quite empty, and even his subjects in danger of perishing by famine, at the critical moment he intended to enter upon action. This manœuvre will probably secure to the King of Prussia his proportion of Poland without bloodshed.

Extract of a letter from the Hague, November 26.

"They write from Warsaw, that the King of Poland is quite out of danger, and it appears by the enquiry that has been made into that affair, that the design against his Majesty was long in agitation, and that some very great persons are suspected to have been concerned in it. It is even said that a party of Russian troops have been privately sent to Elbing to seize the Prince Primate, and bring him back to Warsaw. Some people do not scruple to insinuate, that a certain Court is supposed to have had a hand in it."

Several Privy Councils have lately been held on the present proceedings of the Irish Parliament; and we are told that all the Judges will be shortly required to give their opinion with respect to the power of the royal prerogative over the money of that kingdom.

The Irish Commons have ordered the pension of Jeremiah Dyson, Esq; to be struck off the list of that kingdom. If they have a legal power to do this in a single instance, they have a right to do it in every instance; and therefore, unless they sweep away the whole body of pensioners at once, they must necessarily be considered as the oppressors of their country. To make one thousand a year a grievance, and to make no grievance of one hundred thousand a year, is only to be reconciled by Hibernian patriotism, and must appear utterly unaccountable to every English understanding.

It is said, that a certain great Personage is so struck with, and affected by the late desperate conspiracy and assassination of the King of Poland, that his guards will be doubled for the future, whenever he goes out.

It is said that an unpopular Lady complains of partiality shewn to the prejudice of her favourite son; and sees no reason why he should be disgraced, who married the legitimate issue of a noble family, when every mark of honour is shewn to his brother, who has degraded himself by a marriage with the Lord knows who.

We hear that all intended proceedings to invalidate a certain marriage, are intirely dropt.

A certain Prince of the Blood, we hear, determines to lead a domestic life wholly for the future, and to confine himself entirely to the neighbourhood of Windsor, till he can bring about a reconciliation with his family.

It is said the D. of C. will soon quit the kingdom, and not return until a Great Personage will permit him to appear at Court.

Yesterday Captain Hales, brother to Sir Thomas Pim Hales, kissed the King's hand, on being appointed one of the Grooms of the Bedchamber to his Majesty.

It is said that Commodore Hervey will soon be appointed to inspect all the dock-yards in Great-Britain.

On Friday last the two ships which are intended for Mr. Banks's second voyage round the world, were commissioned by the names of the Drake and Rawleigh, and the commands given to the Captains Cook and Fourneaux; at the same time Messieurs Cooper, Clarke, and Pickergill, were appointed Lieutenants to the Drake. They will sail some time in March next.

DECEMBER 7. Yesterday the Spanish, Russian, and Dutch ambassadors, had three separate private conferences with his Majesty at the Queen's palace.

Yesterday afternoon some dispatches of importance, being the result of the privy council held at St. James's on Thursday last, were sent off for his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland.

It is by some conjectured, that the approaching sessions of P------t will not only be the busiest, but also one of the most important ever known in this kingdom.

His Majesty's ship Dublin, of 74 guns, at Plymouth, is put into commission, and Captain Ourry appointed to the command of her: She is to serve as a guardship in the room of the Fame.

This morning arrived in the river, the Esther transport from Gibraltar, by which there is advice of a fresh insurrection of the natives in the island of Corsica, in which they had cut off upwards of three hundred of the French troops.

By the Martin sloop of war, arrived a few days since from Jamaica, an account is received of two of the principal planters, men of immense fortunes in the French Island of St. Domingo, having been lately executed there by order of the French Governor, for circulating some of the English papers from Boston and Virginia, which they had translated in order to excite the people to support their liberties, after the example of the British American subjects.

It is reported by the friends of the Ministry, that no extraordinary supplies will be required for the next year's service.

The freedom of the city of Cork has been presented to Sir William Mayne, Bart. in a beautiful box, by the Right Hon. John Hely Hutchinson, one of the Representatives in Parliament for that city.

DECEMBER 9. Orders are given for apartments to be fitted up at St. James's, for the reception of the Prince and Princess of Brunswick, who are expected here before the expiration of next month.

"Yesterday in the House of Commons, when the report was made from the Committee of Supply to the House, the Court party moved, that the resolution which had been come to, that Mr. Dyson's pension should not be provided for, might be rejected. This produced a long and warm debate; and it was carried against them by the Country party, who had a majority of 12, the numbers for Administration being 93, and for the Country 105."

Letters from Paris mention, that the French King has demanded a free gift of 40 millions from his Clergy, but that they hoped to be able to moderate the demand, as the largest free gift ever made has not exceeded 30 millions.

On Saturday evening last the Grand Jury for the City of London, at the Old-Bailey, found a bill against Joshua Dudley, for wilful perjury, in making affidavit before the late Lord-Mayor, Brass Crosby, Esq; that he was concerned in the fire at Portsmouth, by swearing he was at such and such places at Portsmouth on July the 14th and 24th in 1770, the contrary of which was fully proved by some reputable gentlemen in that place.

DECEMBER 10. It is said that our most amiable Queen is again pregnant; she was not at chapel on Sunday, but had divine service performed in her own chamber, being slightly indisposed.

Extract of a Letter from the frontiers of Poland, November 16.

"Kosinsky, who is continually undergoing examinations, has confessed, that he was sent by Pulaski, with the other conspirators, to take the King alive or dead; and that he engaged them to the execution of their design by the following oath, before the miraculous image of the Holy Virgin:

'We, being excited by a holy and religious zeal, have taken 'a firm and unshaken resolution to revenge the cause of the 'divinity, religion and our country, which has been injured by 'the tyrant Stanislaus Augustus, despiser of laws divine a 'human, usurper of the throne of Poland, promoter of Atheri 'and Heretics, traitor to his country, oppressor of the natio 'and a vile instrument of foreign ambition and injustice, 'swear and promise before the sacred and miraculous image 'the Mother of God, to sacrifice our fortunes, lives, and fam 'lies, in order to extirpate from the earth one who dishonou 'it, by trampling under foot the respect due to the divinity, 'ligion, and the privileges of the nation. So help us God."

Yesterday, and not before, the cause brought by Lord L---- against Lady L------r, for adultery with Count Al-----i, a Pi montese Nobleman, came on at Doctors Commons, when, af a full hearing, and the clearest case made out by his Lordsh the Judge pronounced a definitive sentence of divorce from b board, and mutual cohabitation, by reason of the said adulte

His Majesty has been graciously pleased, at the instance of Lord Chancellor, who is indefatigable in promoting the pul good, to order a set of all the parliamentary journals of b Houses, to be presented to each of the four great Law Societ A present which in itself is very valuable, but becomes ines mable, as it shews the royal solicitude for the encouragement legal knowledge, the very basis of our glorious constitution.

The business of government being wholly defeated in Irelar Lord Townshend cannot but return, and administration, with their partiality for his Lordship, cannot but appoint anot viceroy for that kingdom.

The Right Hon. Nathaniel Clements, Esq; Deputy Receiv General of Ireland, declared in a late debate in the Irish Ho of Commons, that there was no larger a sum than 10,600 l. maining in the Treasury of that kingdom; so that as the patri seem inclined to vote but 100,000 l. for present supplies, and make the savings of useless expence compensate for the smalln of the aid, the herd of Pensioners is terrified to death, and t Augean stable will probably be cleansed of many dirty incu brances.

One of the most popular Members in the Irish Parliament, William Mayne, is a Scotchman, and one of the most obnoxio also, Mr. Allen, is another. The first is presented with Corp ration boxes from the grateful country, whose champion he h commenced, while the latter sees the measures of governme opposed (as in the affair of the Revenue Commissioners) collat rally because he is one of its favourites.

It will be exceedingly whimsical, says a correspondent, to the House of Irnham (which is strongly suspected) in warm opp sition to government next session, and standing forth the avow Champions of the people.

It is certain that an unpopular Judge is exceedingly mortifi at a measure which has been lately taken by the Common Plea and that, since the existence of our party feuds, nothing h made so deep a wound in his tranquility.

The charge of being a pensioner to France, urged against very popular character, hourly gains ground, though we cann pretend to say with what justice; and wagers are confident held on the truth of the accusation.

DECEMBER 11. The Hawke, Williams, from South-Car lina, bound to London, laden with rice, &c. is entirely lost ne Penzance, in Cornwall, and part of the crew perished.

Extract of a letter from Dublin, November 29.

"This day, our House of Commons being met, the report the Committee of Ways and Means was received, and read, ar agreed to. For the current service of the year and Parliamenta grants, many additional duties were to be laid on sundry impor tations. Six pounds per ton on all Spanish and French wine Three pounds on all Portugal wines; and five pounds on all win of other country growth.

"To pay the national debt a loan was necessary, and M Flood moved, That the loan might be of 100,000l. and the r might be made up from savings and repayments. He was su ported by Mr. Barry, Mr. Ponsonby, Mr. Hussey, Sir Luci O'Brien, Sir William Mayne, &c. but was opposed by Sir Geor Macartney, Mr. Malone, Mr. Attorney-General, Mr. Solicito General, and Mr. Clements.

"At length, the question being put, whether the loan shou be 200,000l. or 100,000l. it passed for the former on a divisio 126 being for the larger, and 96 for the lesser sum.

"A Committee was then appointed to prepare the money-bi and the House adjourned to Monday."

DECEMBER 12. We are well assured, that the King has this moment in his Electoral dominions no less than 60,000 the best troops in Europe, whether they are estimated with re pect to pay, cloathing, or discipline. In case any disturban should arise on the continent, it is thought his Majesty will applied to as a general mediator; and, if he keeps himself disengaged, be the actual arbiter of the Empire.

Extract of a letter from the Hague, December 6.

"According to the advices from Warsaw, Kosinsky has co fessed that there were 300 persons concerned in the attem against the King; but as it is apprehended some great Persona are among them, great caution seems to be observed in proce ing against them. The confederacy of Lithuania is entirely d persed; and most of the other Confederates, among whom Cou Oginsky, Great General of that grand Duchy, retired, are rovi about between Cracovia and Teschen, in order, in case th should be pushed by the Russians, that they may take refuge that Duchy, which is under the Austrian dominion.

"As the negociation which the Court of Vienna opened for time ago at Amsterdam for raising a considerable sum by way loan, did not succeed, we hear that Court has proposed to t Clergy of the hereditary countries to raise a sum of money up the Bank Bills of Vienna. It is said that 8,000,000 florins a to be raised this way, which may be done very easily, as t Abbies and Monasteries in those countries are extremely rich."

We hear that orders are given for a survey to be made of the ports and harbours belonging to the British colonies in Am rica, under the inspection of two able engineers.

The Ministry, we hear, are now exceedingly sorry at the postponing the meeting of Parliament, since the affairs of Irelan are at present in a situation that calls for the whole wisdom o the British legislature.

The Irish Parliament have no positive right to strike off suc pensions as are granted by the King's letter on the revenues o that nation; but they have a power nearly equal, which is to rais no more money than they think proper; and this they will cer tainly exercise on the present occasion, to the great mortificatio of Government.

The Valentia title, which at present gives the rank of an Irish Viscount to the Nobleman who lately lost the Anglesea honours in this kingdom, will be speedily determined before the Peers of the sister nation, a day being already set a-part for the purpose, and the public big with expectation for the decision of their Lordships.

DECEMBER 13. On Wednesday the Princess Dowager of Wales went to the house in Pall-Mall, opposite to the Cocoa Tree, which is taken for the Prince and Princess of Brunswick, viewed every part of it, and seemed as well as she has been these ten years.

Letters from Leghorn, dated Nov. 20, mention, that his Royal Highness the Duke of Gloucester intends to make but a short stay at Pisa, and will spend the remainder of the winter at Florence.

Lord Hinchinbrook, eldest son to the Earl of Sandwich, is appointed to succeed Lord Stormont as Ambassador to the Court of Vienna, as his Lordship has obtained leave to return to England in order to settle his private affairs.

It is said that Lord Bruce, one of the Lords of the Bed Chamber to his Majesty, will soon be created Earl of Aylesbury, in the county of Bucks, which title of Peerage has long laid dormant.

On Wednesday, after the Levee, Edward Le Grand, Esq; resigned his office of Treasurer to his Royal Highness the Duke of Cumberland. It is expected all the officers of his houshold will do the same in a few days.

The Juno man of war, Capt. Stott, is arrived at Plymouth from Falkland's-island, and brings advice that the Spaniards have restored that place to his Majesty.

A letter from Grand Cairo says, "A venerable old Grecian has just made his appearance, who adds new strength to the prophecies lately propagated in regard to the end of our mortal peregrinations in the year 1777; before which, he declares, will be two eclipses both total, and a comet of dreadful and unusual complexion."

DECEMBER 14. On Wednesday Capt. Stott arrived at the Admiralty with dispatches from Falkland's-island, and we are authorized to say, "that the Spaniards have surrendered Port Egmont, and its appurtenances, to the Crown of Great-Britain, agreeable in every article to the Convention settled between the two Crowns."

Six men of war of the line, with land-forces on board, sailed from Cadiz for the Musquito shore the 27th of last month.

Extract of a Letter from Dublin, December 6.

"The 4th inst. it was moved by the patriots, That an increase of expence in preparing and auditing the accounts of the nation would be unseasonable. This was violently opposed by the Court, as they were sensible it was calculated to frustrate a new Board of Commissioners of Accounts (altogether unnecessary, there being Commissioners of Accounts already existing by Act of Parliament, of which no complaint had ever been made;) so that they moved the question of adjournment. Yesterday it was again moved, on which a great debate arose, on which the Court moved, that it should be referred to a Committee of the whole House, which they carried by a majority of 124 against 116. This is considered as a victory gained by the minority, as it will be impossible to carry on business with only a majority of eight. As it is concluded in the Committee, the patriots will carry all before them; and if the Court are beat, there is an end to Lord Townshend's administration, as at least twenty members of Parliament will be disappointed, who were to be provided for out of this Board, and that of the Revenue, and would have secured twenty dead votes to government, which, with the unnecessary expence it was to create, would never be submitted to by this now (rendered) desperate country."

The Bee, William Kingdom, master, from Naples, (having on board the corpse of the late Lord Baltimore) arrived the 10th instant off Topsham, and sailed immediately for Stangate Creek.

Notwithstanding what may have been said to the contrary, we are well informed, that three supervisors will be sent by the company to India, and the gentlemen intended are Mr. Sulivan, Mr. Purling, and Mr. Rumbold.

The unreserved surrender which the Spaniards have made of Falkland's-island, says a correspondent, has given the last blow to an expiring popularity; as it shews the falsehood of all the news-paper reports, fabricated to fill the nation with an apprehension of a rupture with Spain, and to lessen the Government in the opinion of the people.

When Captain Stott arrived in town with the above intelligence, he waited instantly upon the King; but neither of the Secretaries of State could attend, Lord Rochford being confined by a violent fit of the gout, and Lord Suffolk unable to appear from the bruises he lately received in thrusting his head through the window-glass of his chariot, which he did not recollect to be drawn up.

The spirited, as well as sensible manner, in which Capt. Stott executed his commission, has given so much satisfaction, that we hear there is an intention of rewarding him with a first-rate man of war, a circumstance which must give general satisfaction to the kingdom.

Captain Stott's people, though very ill in general with the scurvy on board, found no refreshment from their consort in the harbour at Port-Egmont; the Captain himself, so far from being entertained by the Spaniards, was obliged to entertain the Spanish Governor in the Juno, that gentleman being but miserably supplied with provisions.

The Captain in his return to England put in at a Portugueze settlement, where he was treated with much hospitality; but when he wanted a fresh supply of provisions, and offered drafts upon the British Treasury, the Governor declined an acquiescence with his wishes, and declared that ready money only could procure him necessaries.

The certainty that no war will now be entered into with Spain has already raised the funds, and the Ministry confidently affirm, that when the answer to their memorial about the late affair of the Hawke sloop taken at Carthagena arrives, the public will see that his Majesty's servants were never more attentive to preserve the reputation of the kingdom.

The accommodation with Spain has now left nothing but the affairs of Ireland to embarrass the Ministry; and, notwithstanding their present exultation, it is certain the political complection of their sister nation affords them sufficient cause for very great anxiety.

Extract of a Letter from Dublin.

"Tuesday the 3d instant, the poll ended at the Tholsel, for electing a Citizen to represent this City, in the room of Dr. Charles Lucas, deceased, when the numbers on that and the preceding day stood thus:

PLYMOUTH, December 3. We have just heard, that five sail of the line are ordered to be fitted out here as soon as possible, and then are to sail for Jamaica, with some more ships lying at Portsmouth, on account, as is said, of some intelligence lately received from that island.

CHARLES-TOWN, FEBRUARY 18.

ON the Fourth Instant, the Honourable James Habersham, Esq; Commander in Chief, &c. of the Province of Georgia, issued a Proclamation, prohibiting the exporting or carrying without the Limits of said Province, any Indian Corn, until the 1st of September next. The Reasons given for the said Prohibition are, the Market Price of that useful Grain being above 3s. per Bushel, by Reason of the Shortness of the last Crop in that Province, and the large and daily Exportations, whence there is great Reason to believe, that the industrious poor Inhabitants and others may be greatly distressed.

We learn from Wilmington, in North-Carolina, that the Arrival of a considerable Number of Vessels in Cape-Fear River, had occasioned Naval Stores to rise very high, 12*s.* 8*d.* per Barrel for Tar, being given there, paid in Cash or Bills of Exchange.

Advices from St. Eustatia, of the 17th ult. mention, that "About three Weeks before, the Spaniards took a Schooner as she lay at Crab-Island, loading with Posts. Crab-Island is mentioned in the Governor of Tortola's Commission as one of the Virgin-Islands under his Command. Admiral Man sent down a Frigate to demand the Schooner and her Crew, but the Frigate returned January 16, without either. The Spanish Governor told the Captain of the Frigate that he had Orders for what he did, and that he would continue to do as he had done, till his Orders were countermanded. The British Officers who went ashore were treated like Criminals, being put under a double Guard of Spaniards as soon as they landed."

Since our last the Captains Moore and Blewer, sailed for Philadelphia, in whom went sundry Passengers.

A FINE LOT for Sale by private Contract,

THAT valuable LOT of LAND in Charles-Town, known or diſtinguiſhed in the plan or model thereof, by the No. 191, ſituated at the weſt end and on the north ſide of Tradd-ſtreet, between the houſes of Alexander Fraſer, Eſq; and the late Captain Thomas Elliott, deceaſed, containing in front on ſaid ſtreet, fifty-eight feet, eight inches, or thereabouts, with the advantage of a paſſage; and in depth one hundred and forty-three feet, or thereabouts; whereon is a BRICK HOUSE deſigned for kitchens or two tenements that were intended to be built, and will ſtill ſerve thoſe purpoſes. This Lot has a fine proſpect of Aſhley-River, and as the proprietor of the oppoſite lot may perhaps make his front on Friend-ſtreet to be uniform with the other houſes built at the ſouth end and weſt ſide of that ſtreet, with the garden running eaſt and weſt, there will be no obſtruction to the ſoutherly air from Aſhley-River, which muſt be very agreeable in the hot months, and may prevent the communication of any malignant diſtemper that may rage in the interior parts of the town, or contagion ariſing from noxious effluvia. Its vicinity alſo to ſeveral good landing places on Aſhley-River, particularly the Sugar-Houſe-Creek, where a public market will no doubt be ſoon eſtabliſhed, will greatly enhance the value of all lands in that part of the town; alſo being ſituated in an excellent neighbourhood of reputable inhabitants, renders it not only more eligible, but ſecure againſt the danger of fire; and being a vacant lot, the purchaſer will have the ſatisfaction of erecting buildings thereon according to his own taſte for pleaſure or profit; the area or ground plot admitting either of one large manſion houſe of twelve rooms, or to be divided into two tenements of ſix rooms each, with land ſufficient behind for a kitchen garden to each. And, as houſes in that airy and pleaſant part of the town are ſeldom or ever empty, it will afford a certain good income quarterly.

The purchaſer may have one, two, three, or four years credit, giving bond, with approved perſonal ſecurity, and paying the intereſt punctually every year, and if he chuſes it, one third or one fourth part of the principal will be received annually, by which inſtalments, the purchaſe money will be eaſily and inſenſibly ſunk.
